

Wood based architecture

BUILDING DESIGNED BY J.
INDRŪNAS

Tulpių g. 21, Kaunas

The basic structural elements and the memory of the persons who lived here are both preserved in this wooden villa. This one-storeyed wooden house with a half-hip roof, and an attic has preserved many extant interior details, such as stove, door handles, built-in closets. Designed by J. Indriūnas, a construction technician, and built in 1927, the house belonged to Stasė and Juozas Geniušas, the grandparents of Petras Geniušas, a well-known Lithuanian piano player. Besides the Geniušas family, Adomas Lastas-Lastauskas, a modernist poet, interpreter, and lower, lived here.
